

Einstein said , “ I have no special talents. I am only passionately curious.”

As I walk down the hall ways of the school every day, I can hear the chatter of the eager minds, the thump of dancer’s feet, the sound of melodious voice harmonizing and the excitement of our victorious athletes. It gives me immense pleasure to see Children curious to explore, investigate and learn. They have an inquisitive mind which has many queries, perhaps the bigger minds had never ever thought of. While trying to answer their endless queries, we become more a learner being with them.

The confidence to question is one of the greatest gift we can give to our children. It’s not just vital for learning, but to navigate the wide world. The WHY and HOW phase is a wonderful first glimpse into an enquiring young mind. Here, the role of parents and teacher is at the heights. It is we who have to give our children immense scope to question, ability to reason, to make informed judgment, to critically evaluate and discover true and life-long learning.

Air Force School Chabua has unlocked the storehouse of such inquisitive and creative minds with an objective- “Educate and motivate the Child for life-long learning”. The wheel of excellence and continual progress of the school has been steered with values, quality education, the intensive use of variety of thinking activities and group dynamics to make the classroom alive and constant improvement in infrastructure, educational technology, teaching and learning process, as spokes fortify innumerable efforts to set the wheel on track. We recognize the talent and ability of every individual child and groom his personality accordingly by employing modern tools of education. We pride ourselves to help our children grow and help them develop into sensitive and responsible citizens of the future.

AF School Chabua fortunately have committed and supportive management, dedicated teachers, caring and co-operative parents which blend harmoniously to create a child-centric school. I am sure that with co-operation of all, the school will continue to grow in all its ways in the years to come.

We can without hesitation assure that we can prove ourselves to be one among the best educational institutions in the region to foster holistic development in a child.
